

Bangkok 11 May 2012

Dear All,

Khun Girana Anuman-Rajadhon is pleased to invite you to the upcoming Bangkok Symphony Orchestra's and NUNi Productions performance:

“Opera “Dido & Aeneas”

Dido & Aeneas by Henry Purcell is a three-act Baroque opera which telling the tragedy and romance between Dido, the Queen of Carthage and the Trojan hero, Aeneas set at the time of ancient Greece after the fall of Troy.

The production will be directed by NUNi Productions' in-house director Pattarasuda Anuman Rajadhon whose previous NUNi Productions' works include Mozart in Mischief (2007) Il campanello (2008) Orpheus Schemata (2009) and Three Penny Opera (2009). The ensemble consists of 20 talented singers including Saran Suebsantiwongse, Monique Kongtruadroke and Ayano Kimura. NUNi stands for Never Underestimate New ideas, a progressive production house bringing classical music and performance art to Thailand in a young way. Khun Girana sponsors this Opera to bring a new style of opera to Thai audiences. She has given her sponsorship logo and advertisement to Horseshoe Point to promote the resort and property.

Bangkok Symphony Orchestra will be conducted from the harpsichord by a renowned Israeli conductor and harpsichord soloist, Shalev Ad-el, who is the Director of Accademia Daniel, Oslo Baroque Soloists, guest conductor and soloist with Israel Philharmonic, Israel Opera, Berlin Symphony, Berlin Philharmonic Stradivarius Soloists, Halle Philharmonic, Sydney Chamber Music Festival Orchestra, and New York Philharmonic Choir.

This is a refreshing new opera performance with excellent voices, a highly motivated ensemble and an enthusiastic conductor. The Rehearsal, which Khun Girana visited last Wednesday, was a most enjoyable time. There is no dress code for this opera, please wear you comfortable casual clothes and enjoy the evening.
